TRACK AND PRIZE RING. Washington at Last Loses a Game-Heavy Batting By Both Teams-Sunday Games-Trouble in the Brotherhood. A young man named Mace, who be longs to this city, but who is playing ball for Newark with eight other men, all of whom are under the guidance of Sam Trott, played a game of ball at Atlantic Park yesterday. To be sure the Washington team was there, but it never had anything to do with the game, for the visitors took a commanding lead in the second inning and increased it at every jump. Talk about batting. Why, both teams batted like fiends, and the only difference was that the local team made its hits after two men were out, while the Newarks hit the ball whenever they pleased. They had a delightful time with Maloney, and they made the Washington fielders de-cidedly weary. Base hit after base hit was rapped out to right, left and centre, and when the ball was not hit safely some Washington player accommodatingly made an error. In this manner the Newarks piled up seventeen runs on the twenty hits they made and the eight errors of the local team. Washington also hit Mace hard, making fourteen hits, but he was well sup-ported, and as most of the hits were scattered, only four runs resulted. Smith, the short-stop of the visiting club, played a remarkable game, and some of his stops and throws were the could of any ever made. O'Brien resumed his position at second, but played miserably, making four of the eight errors credited to his side.

The grounds were in poor condition and affected the work of the local team, but it had no appreciable effect on the work of the visitors. Taken altogether the Newarks won the game by superior

Oh, yes, we are too strong for the Atlantic Association, After all, such an overwhelming defeat as that of yester day has a salutary effect. Nobody be-grudges the loss of the game and it takes the conceit out of those who thought the team was invincible.

Young Mace was the happiest man in town last night. He defeated his old club and that was joy enough for one day. But had the men behind him not batted as they did his pitching would not have cut a figure, for his delivery was pounded hard.

We are going to have Sunday games As THE CRITIC announced yesterday the negotiations have been nearly com pleted for grounds on the opposite side of the river, and by the time the club returns from its trip everything will be in readiness for the playing of such games. President Hewitt declared very emphatically last night that he proposed to play Sunday games. He does not believe it will injure the attendance at the week-day games. Sunday games will be something of a novelty in this section of the country, and the outcome of the experiment will be watched with

The trouble between Jimmy Fogarty and the Philadelphia Players' Club has not yet been patched up. Messrs. Love, Hitt, Allen and Eliott were non-communicative when asked for a correct version of the difficulty. Mr. Love de-clared that there was no truth in the report that he and Fogarty had had a per sonal difficulty over the management of the club. He said that whatever part he had taken in the matter has been submitted in writing. They all refused to say whether or not Fogarty had left the club or had threatened to do so. Mr. Love said that it would be necessary to see Manager Buffinton for information relating to the team.

Buffinton said that there were doubtless a good many other people who knew more about the trouble with Fogarty than he did, but that what he rogary than he did, but that what he did know he proposed to keep to himself, believing that the less said the sooner the difficulty would be settled. Said he: "I think Fogarty will soon be with us again. I'm sure I hope so, and what else is there for him to do? He can play nowhere else. Then you admit that he has left you?" was asked. "No. I admit nothing, and don't wish to be quoted as saying anything about the matter," Buffinton replied. Fogarty has apparently found more hardships in the Brotherhood organiza-tion than he ever met with in the old

League. His action in suddenly refusing to play ball has opened the eyes of the backers of the Players' League to a new danger. What if many other players were to follow suit? Fred Dunlap was paid off yesterday and given his formal release by the Allegheny Baseball Club. By the terms of the national agreement D mny was entitled to ten days' pay after the date on which he was notified of his release. but to get that ten days' pay he would have been required to stay in Pittsburg and would have been under the club's orders for the ten days, and in order to terminate his relations with the club at once he accepted a compromise, accept ng what money was due him and five days' pay.

After his release Dunlap told Director O'Neil that he was glad to get away from the club, as his relations with Manager Hecker were anything but pleasant. He also stated that the team would never occupy a good posi-tion in the race until Hecker would change his tactics with the boys, "Why," said he, "some of the boys could not get a cent of money while away on the trips unless they were in the habit of playing poker, and as Hecker always 'set on the game' and is the best poker player in the party he had a big percentage in his favor of winning all the money that was thus put in circulation."

In addition to this Dunlap claimed that Hecker was under the influence of liquor one evening while his team was in Cincinnati and that this demoralized the balance of the men. Dunlap will leave to morrow evening for his home in Philadelphia He has not yet re-ceived any offer for his services for the balance of the season and states that he will likely rest for the balance of the year. The fight between Reddy Gallagher and Billy McCarthy, which was to have occurred in the California Athletic club-rooms, has been declared off on account of Gallagher's sickness. Bob Fitzsimmons, a new arrival from New Zealand, will be substituted for Galla-eher, and will fight McCarthy on May 29 for a purse of $1,250.

The race between Kemp and McLean for £200 a side and the sculling cham-pionship of the world took place on the Paramatta River yesterday. It was won by Kemp.

If the prophet Balaam had flourished in Anno Domini 1890 instead of during ing an indefinite period before the b ginning of the Christian era he would, if short of space in inditing his life and experiences, undoubtedly have sacrificed the story of his talking donkey to the far more surprising incident of the victory achieved yesterday by Castaway II. in the Brooklyn Handicap. Eight days ago Badge gave the Beaverwyck stables' horse 14 pounds in the New Jersey Jockey Club handicap, run over a mile and a-quarter, and beat him the length of a stretch—Eon winning the race in 2:141. Yesterday, on at least as slow a track, running at the same weights, Castaway beat Badge by a good half a dozon lengths in 2:10. Verily the ways of the Beaverwyck stables' horses are not as other thoroughbreds' ways, and as minety-ning out. oughbreds' ways, and, as ninety-nine out of every one hundred visitors to the Gravesend track now know to their loss, they are past finding out.

The value of the stakes was $10,000 and the post odds against the winner 25 to 1 straight and 6 to 1 for the place. The race itself was a procession, Castaway leading throughout and finishing ten lengths in the van. Badge finished second and Eric was third.

Of all the tipsters who ventured predictions on the Brooklyn Handicap the young man who makes the forecasts for the New York Tribune must feel the worst. After extolling the merits of the most popular horses entered for the race, he made his paper say: "What on earth is the use of running such cattle as Sorrento, Vengeur, Castaway II, Cynesure, Oriflamme and Eric in such company?"

SENATOR EUSTIS' LENIENCY.

Asks That the Fine Imposed on His Assailant Be Remitted. William Lemoyne, the colored man who lost his temper at the circus on Wednesday night and assaulted Senator Eustis, was brought before Judge Miller again this morning. A written request came from the Senator that inasmuch as Lemoyne was a man of family depending on him for support that the fine be remitted. They were willing to take him back with the circus, but if he remained here he would be unable to obtain employment. Judge Miller doubted his authority to make this disposition of the case, but after consulting with the District Attorney he concluded that he could set aside the judgment and reduce the fine from $20 to $5 in the assault case, and from $10 to $2 on the charge for disorderly conduct. This amount was paid, and Lemoyne immediately left for Richmond, where he will join

They were all in a conveyance crossing the track, when they were struck by an express train. Richardson is held responsible in not having properly attended the gate at the crossing and avoided the accident.

Colonel Robert's Suggestion.

Engineer Commissioner Robert is at all times a very busy man. Exclusive of the administrative work he is obliged to attend to in the District Building, he is held responsible by Congress for everything of an engineering character connected with the city's interests. He thinks that Congress should provide an office for the especial use of the con-sulting engineers remote from the Dis-Building, and at which the engineering requirements of the District could be investigated and acted upon with more facility and expediency. This would cost about $15,000 per annum.

McCalla's Sentence, The sentence of Commander Mc Calla, U. S. N., was yesterday approved by Secretary Tracy. It suspends the accused from rank and duty for three years, but allows him to retain his present number on the list of Commanders while so suspended. There were five charges and about twenty specifications preferred against him.

The examination for applicants to fill the vacancies recently created in the police force will be made by a board selected by Major Moore and composed of Captain Austin and Lieutenants Guy and Hollingsberger. Any and all policemen on the Metro-politan force will have the privilege of passing this examination, which will consist of an investigation into their records as officers and qualification to act as sergeants.

THE COUNTRY'S DANGER

DESIGNS OF THE PRESENT CON-GRESS EXPOSED.

Not Even During the Reconstruction Period Was the Policy of the Republican Party So Dangerous to the Country. From the Indianapolis Sentinel.

Senator Voorhees arrived at the Grand Hotel Monday evening from Fountain County where he has been spending some days with his mother, who has been seriously ill. Although in her 89th year, she was convalescing when her distinguished son left her. She is in full possession of her faculties and takes a keen interest in everything that is transpiring. Senator Voorhees comes of long-lived stock, his father having died at the ripe age of 82. Except for a severe cold the Senator is in robust health. In fact he looks more vigorous than for several years past. In conversation with a Sentinel representative yesterday, he talked freely regarding the political situation.

"For more than thirty years," he said, "I have been a close student of the policies and measures of the Republican party, and I can say, in all serious-ness, that at no time in its history—not excepting the reconstruction period, when it established negro suffrage, and attempted, by a series of desperate, lawless and unconstitutional acts, to en-trench itself permanently in powerhave its designs been more dangerous to the country than now. If it shall succeed in carrying out the programme which has been outlined by such men as Chandler, Reed and Quay, the republic will cease to exist, except in name. The Federal Election bill and the so-called Gerrymandering bill are revolutionary measures, intended to derevolutionary measures, intended to de-prive milliens of American citizens of the rights guaranteed them by the Con-stitution, and to enable the Republican party to retain its hold on power in de-flance of the wishes of a majority of the people. We Democrats in both houses of Congress will resist the enactment of these infamous measures he again. of these infamous measures by every means in our power. But the hands of the Democrats in the House are practi-cally tied by the Russian code of rules, which is in force in that body, and now an attempt is making to establish a similar code in the Senate. This will be resisted by the minority to the bitter end; and I think paw paws will be ripe before it is done. 'If it were not for my faith in the patriotism of the American people, and in an overruling Providence, I should be inclined to take a very despondent view of the future of our country. But I recall that after the Republican had destroyed self-government at the South, and placed a dozen States under the heel of the military power, and when everything seemed to be so arranged as to insure that party's ascendancy for an indefinite period, there was a popular revolution, and it was overthrown. believe this will happen again. lieve it will happen in 1892. The Republican leaders are playing a desperate and dangerous game, but I believe they will lose it. We shall elect a Democratic House and a Democratic Presi-dent two years hence. By the aid of their stolen Senatorships, their rotten borough States, and their gerrymanders they may save the Senate and thus be able to prevent for a time such legisla tion in the interest of the people as the Democratic party is pledged to enact, and will enact, if it ever gets the power. But I think signs are not wanting of such a political revolution as will sweep even the Senate into Democratic hands in the near future. 'Will the McKinley bill pass? Yes substantially in its present shape. And I am glad of it. It carries the doctrine of protection to its logical extreme, and its enactment will open the eyes of the American people, as a more moderate measure could not do, to the iniquity of stripping off of all disguise: a hold and shameless imposition of taxes upon cer-tain classes of people for the benefit of certain other classes. Its passage will only hasten the downfall of protection.

"The Farmers' Alliance? Well, it has been called into existence by the wrongs inflicted upon the farmers of the country by Republican legislation. Its avowed objects are laudable, and I neartily sympathize with them. For the most part, in all essential respects, they are identical with the objects which the Democratic party is striving to accomplish, and would be able to if it had the support of the great body of the farmers. The farmers can best secure relief from the burdens which now oppress them by co-operating in the restoration of the Democratic party to power in all branches of the Govern ment. There have been a good many similar movements, and I fear their his-tory will be repeated in the history of the alliance. Still, if intriguing poli-ticians do not use it, as the Republican managers in this State are trying to use it, to promote the very interests which it was formed to antagonize, it may do a great deal of good." The Senator thought it was too early to express an opinion as to the Presi-dential candidates of either party in '92. If the Democratic convention were to be held to day, Cleveland would be the nominee; how it will be two years hence no one can tell. As to the Republicans. he did not see how, on the one hand, they could afford to renominate Harrison, nor, on the other hand, how they could avoid doing so. The party would find itself "between the devil and the deep sea" in 1892. The Administration, he said, was not at all popular in Republi-can circles at Washington. He illus-trated the estimation in which it is held among its own partisans by a story of Bob Ingersoll. Some time ago the distinguished pagan was accosted by a friend, who had not seen him since the

of the outcome of the great fight at Chicago?" "It reminds me," replied "Bob," "of the bride and groom who had a quarrel over their first meal after marriage. Both were fastidious, and hard to please. The best to be had was none too good for either. The bride wanted canvas-back duck and Burgundy. The groom preferred terrapin and cham-pagne. They quarreled for a long e, and finally compromised-on cab

THE CROUCH HORROR. No Ciue as Yet to the Perpetrators of the Crime

WASHINGTON, PA., May 16-The Journal's representative returned this morning from the scene of the triple murder at Bentleysville, eighteen miles east of here. The town is isolated from railway, telegraph and telephone com-munication. The murder is supposed to have been committed between 8 and 9 o'clock Tuesday night, but it was not discovered until 12 o'clock Wednesday morning, when a neighbor's son called at the Crouch farm. The alarm was given and neighbors entered the house where a sickening sight was presented. where a sickening sight was presented.
The father, mother and son lay on the floor, horribly disfigured by the heavy blows of a blunt club on the head.
Blood, brains and hair were scattered over the floor and furniture. The crimwas evidently committed by one person and his object was robbery, as Crouch was known to have large sums of money on the premises. Whether the murderer secured much is not known. Two hundred and fifty dollars were found after the crime was committed. The community is in a ferment of excitement, and there is no clue whatever. The grand jury here to-day offered $1,000 for the arrest and conferred $1,000 for the arrest and viction of the murderer. Officers from here have gone to look up the case.
